"Turning To Into For: Instead of Asking God, 'Why Was This Done to Me?' Ask, 'Why Was This Done for Me?": an astounding compendium that contains the author's personal insights on how to attain triumph and fulfillment in life. "Turning To Into For: Instead of Asking God, 'Why Was This Done to Me?' Ask, 'Why Was This Done for Me?'" is the creation of published author Calvin G. Sims Sr., the founder of StoryTellers of the American Frontier (SAF), a nonprofit organization that provides educational and motivational programming for at-risk youth.

Sims Sr. shares, "There has never been a motivational book like Turning To Into For.

"Based on the author's philosophy that the most important lessons in life are preceded by a test, this book is composed of two parts: the test and the lesson.

"The test, the autobiographical first part, is the riveting story of a boy who was abandoned as a toddler and left to grow up in an abusive foster home, where he was abused, molested, and encouraged to steal until, at age nine, he was given a gun and taken under the wings of the neighborhood gang leader.

"The lesson, which is the second part, will empower the reader as the author shares life lessons of being born into unimaginable pain and suffering, which enabled him to, with only a ninth grade education, become an international computer consultant. Inspired to teach the principles that enabled him to escape becoming a tragic statistic, he abandoned a very lucrative career, founded a nonprofit organization, and became an internationally renowned educator, recognized, among other honors, by the George W. Bush White House for his work with at-risk and underprivileged populations.

"The power of these lessons was called on once again when, in 2014, cancer struck. Through treatment and faith, the cancer was eradicated, but the author was left paralyzed from the waist down. The amazing result of what could have ended in tragedy was the reemergence of one of America's most dynamic motivational speakers.
